THE INAUGURAL

Brain Injury and Resource Facilitation Regional Conference

Registration now open!

Our goal at RHI Resource Facilitation is to improve vocational outcome for individuals with brain injury. Indiana Vocational Rehabilitation Services has the highest vocational outcomes in the nation. To achieve and sustain these outcomes, the RHI Resource Facilitation department strives to build the capacity of the professionals and community service providers throughout the State who work with people with brain injury. This inaugural conference is geared to those individuals. This 2-day conference will provide cutting-edge brain injury education and promote evidence-based vocational rehabilitation through the collaboration of community resource providers.

Second, the impact brain injury has on the judicial system is staggering. As many as 60% of all people incarcerated have a history of brain injury. In this conference, we provide a separate track for Criminal Justice professionals that will provide you information about the relationship between brain injury and criminality, our research, training and screening techniques specific to brain injury, discuss barriers and gaps to service, and lastly, engage in problem solving and strategy generation to address these barriers.
