For placement at CL-25, at least one year of specialized experience equivalent to work at CL-23; for placement at CL-27, at least two years of specialized experience, with at least one year equivalent to work at the CL-25, is required. Specialized experience includes progressively responsible experience, gained after completion of a bachelor's degree, in such fields as probation, pretrial services, parole, corrections, criminal investigations, or work in substance/addiction treatment. Experience as a police officer, custodial, or security officer, other than any criminal investigative experience, is not creditable.

STRONGLY PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS: At least three years of specialized experience and a master's degree in a closely related field of study. Excellent computer knowledge and the ability to type a high volume of material accurately. Ability to communicate orally and in writing. PHYSICAL REQUIREMENTS AND MAXIMUM ENTRY AGE: The duties of probation officers require the investigation and management of alleged criminal offenders or convicted offenders who present physical danger to officers and to the public. The supervision, treatment, and control of these offenders requires moderate to arduous physical exercise, including prolonged periods of walking and standing, physical dexterity and use of self-defense tactics. On a daily basis, officers face unusual mental and physical stress because they are subject to danger and possible harm during frequent, direct contact with individuals who are suspected or convicted of committing Federal offenses. Because officers must effectively deal with physical attacks and are subject to moderate to arduous physical exertion, applicants must be physically capable. Officers must possess, with or without corrective lenses, good distance vision in at least one eye and the ability to read normal size print. Normal hearing ability, with or without a hearing aid, is also required. In most instances, the amputation of an arm, hand, leg, or foot will not disqualify an applicant from appointment, although it may be necessary for the applicant to use a prosthesis to compensate for the amputation. Any severe health problems, however, such as physical defects, disease, and deformities that constitute employment hazards to the applicant or others, may disqualify an applicant. Examples of health problems that may be disqualifying are hernia (with or without truss), organic heart disease (whether or not compensated), severe varicose veins, serious deformities, or disabilities of the extremities, mental or nervous disease, chronic constitutional disease, and marked speech abnormalities.

First-time appointees to positions covered under law enforcement officer retirement provisions must not have reached their 37th birthday at the time of appointment. Applicants 37 or over who have previous law enforcement officer experience under the Civil Service Retirement System or the Federal Employees' Retirement System and who have either a subsequent break in service or intervening service in a non-law enforcement officer position may have their previous law enforcement experience subtracted from their age to determine whether they meet the maximum age requirement. Retirement is mandatory at age 57.

BACKGROUND INVESTIGATIONS, DRUG SCREENING, MEDICAL, AND TRAINING REQUIREMENTS: Prior to appointment, applicants considered for this position will undergo a medical examination and drug screening. Upon successful completion of the medical examination and drug screening, and following a local background investigation, the selectee may be appointed provisionally, pending a favorable suitability determination. If a provisional hire is authorized (appointment prior to completion of the background investigation), continued employment will be contingent on successful completion of the investigation. In addition, as conditions of employment, the incumbent will be subject to ongoing random drug screening, updated background investigations every five years and, as deemed necessary by management for reasonable cause, may be subject to subsequent fitness-for-duty evaluations. Newly appointed probation officers are required to attend a 4-6 week training program at the National Training Academy in Charleston, South Carolina. This program usually occurs within six months of being appointed, and participants receive advanced notice of the training dates. There is also local training within the district that supplements the national curriculum. In addition, district-wide training occurs at least annually, and it may require up to two overnight stays outside of the assigned duty station.
